LABOUR'S FOREIGN POLICY

[By J. RAMSAY MACDONALD, M.P.]

The following is the first of the articles which Mr. Ramsay MacDonald has specially written for the Sunday Times outlining the objectives of Labour's foreign policy.

I have been asked to give answers to four questions, the first of which is: What, in my opinion, would be the relations between America and Great Britain under a Labour Government?

The relations between Great Britain and America form a peculiarly delicate subject for discussion. There are, unfortunately, plenty of my countrymen who do not see this. Is not America an English-speaking nation? Does it not belong to the community of Anglo-Saxon peoples? Do not that fact and that mistake mean that, of course, America must be our ally in our world projects, and that it and we together have common tasks to perform in the history of mankind?

As a matter of fact, whilst nothing may be more desirable than such a companionship in well-doing, it is not to be secured from the mere elementary nature of things, but only by a patient process of understanding each other, of removing very serious difficulties and obstacles, of creating a mutual confidence, which does not exist as yet; and for this I am not at all sure that both countries will have to be driven together by dire world events as well as by whatever objects they may have in common.

POLICY OF WORLD PACIFICATION.

A Labour Government would regard any aloofness on the part of America as a calamity; but it would go further than that. It considers its own world policy of pacification and reconstruction, of democratic development and freedom, as so essentially akin to the spirit and purposes of America, that America would find it hard to withhold what help it could give to us in our work.

We know America's difficulties; we respect America's suspicions. The American people are drawn from many diverse sources. They have crossed the Atlantic with many bitter memories in their hearts. Their thoughts of Europe and of ourselves have been anything but friendly, and they have no intention of allowing the mighty State which they have done their full share in building up to become an adjunct to any European Power, or to get mixed up in the diplomatic confusions and nationalist ambitions of European policy. Who can blame them? What is there in our records to entitle us to be superior judges or censors of their isolation?

The British Labour Party, however, comes fresh and free into the field. Whatever mistakes it may be its fate to make, it is not responsible for the past. Above all, it sees quite clearly that for the future we need a new diplomatic method, a new courage for peace and justice, a new faith in national and personal freedom, a new energy in democracy. The memories which make America suspicious, the various racial grafts which make it vigorously determined to keep away from European entanglements, cannot regard a Labour Government in the same way as they would any other Government.

A SANE OUTLOOK.

Should Labour come into office it will inherit a past. It will not begin its work with the vanity of a child thinking it can begin all things from the beginning again. All impressions given to the contrary are but the partisan expedients devised by political opponents to stampede electors by fear. We shall take the world as we find it, and, in relation to what we consider its future ought to be, we shall devise our policy. America's reticence in space has made it an on-looker, and it has been anything but edified by what it has beheld. The ideas of democratic control and democratic aims to which the Labour Party has held steadfastly, and upon which it has built up what success it has won, enables it to see more plainly than other parties the American point of view, and, whilst living in the entanglements, it has been able to draw itself apart from them, see them with an American objectiveness, and propose remedies with the clearness of vision and freedom of a spectator. Thus it comes about that a Labour Government performing its task of disentangling the confusion of European politics to-day could not help receiving the sympathetic attention of the American people.

To think of an American alliance is both stupid and dangerous; to dream of American goodwill and help is natural for any Government honestly and disinterestedly pursuing a policy which the best elements in America, East and West, must regard as good. That is the conviction of British Labour.

TO DISESTABLISH MILITARISM.

The main objective of a Labour Government would be to disestablish militarism, not merely as an organisation, but as a trust, and to put an organisation of law, of conciliation, and of equity in its place. It would also disestablish the old methods of diplomacy, which on principle withheld information from the masses of the people, acted for them, and committed them without consulting them. Diplomacy as we have known it has had a pronounced smack of the primitive man about it; it has been a survival in our Constitution as our atrophied eyelids have been a survival in our bodies; it has been out of touch with modern political ways, and it is now a bar to the co-operation of democracies for peaceful and human ends.

America has always been willing to help Europe and to take its part in the general human progress. It has only asked for a guarantee that its help is to be effective, is not merely to aid European nations out of one mess so that they might plunge into another; is not to mix up America in trouble rather than get other people out of it. The policy of a Labour Government will remove the hindrances to the co-operation of America and in so far as solving the large moral political problems of the world will be made easy.

But, it is said, the trade and financial policy of a Labour Government will make co-operation with America impossible, and we are sometimes even told by a kind of Fascist coterie which occasionally shows itself here that America would impose a blockade on foodstuffs upon us by reason of some Bolshevik action which in their nightmares they see as undertaking. No party will fulfil its international obligations with more scrupulous care than the Labour Party. The responsible leaders of Labour, both on its industrial and its political sides, have shown again and again that to them an agreement is an agreement. Our Labour movement has never had the least inclination to try short-cuts to the millennium; if it had, the Russian example would have cured it.

REAL MENACES TO FRIENDSHIP.

There is far more menace to the friendly relations between America and ourselves in a new Tariff Bill introduced in Washington, or a Tariff Reform agitation conducted here from Tory headquarters—certainly far more in the disgraceful conduct of the liquor interests in conspiring to violate the Law of America—than there would be in the domestic policy of a Labour Government ruling here in the interest of the mass of our people. One has only to sit in the House of Commons and observe the behaviour of the Labour Opposition and the Government drawn from the latter would pursue a policy of consistent friendship and co-operation with the people of America.

Therefore, I answer the first question put to me by saying that the advent of a Labour Government ought greatly to improve the chances of America and ourselves co-operating (certainly not alone, for that does not enter into my mind) to increase the amount of peace, liberty, and justice in the political affairs of the world, and should that expectation be unfulfilled it would be the failure of one of the most cherished dreams of the Labour Party.

SCOTTISH SPORT.

NORTH BEATS SOUTH.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

EDINBURGH, November 28th.
Frost spoiled Rugby, and the North versus South of Scotland International Trial, at Aberdeen narrowly escaped postponement. All other games had to be abandoned. The victory of the North, 8 points to 0, was well deserved, and not unexpected, for many good judges of the game in the Border district had previously expressed their opinion that the Border Selection Committee had performed their duties in a curiously perfunctory fashion. This was especially the case with the three-quarters, all of whom might readily have been improved upon. The North forwards were splendidly led by R. Howie (Kirkcaldy), the old Edinburgh University Blue and Inter-City player. W. G. K. Findlay (Perthshire), who used to play for Glasgow Academicals, was also strongly in evidence, and J. MacLeod (Aberdeen Grammar School F.P.) was very good. The eight were well together all the time, whereas the South pack were good and bad by turns. The North backs were also a chappier company. D. McGregor (Aberdeen Grammar School F.P.) who distinguished himself not a little in last year's trials, being the hero of the game, while Webster, on the other wing, also rendered fine service to his side. W. E. Bryce, the Scottish International, did a power of work behind the scrummage for the losers, but was far from well supported. W. Moffat, Hawick's wing forward, was the best of the South's third line. He made several good breaks through in the centre, but invariably finished weakly. G. L. Pattullo and T. Waddell were both reliable at back, but the 1920 International is probably the sounder tackle. POSITIONS UNCHANGED IN LEAGUE.

The frost-bound grounds influenced League fixtures, and the results on the whole did not affect the placings of the clubs. The most notable event was that Rangers had to be satisfied with a draw. It was their fourth this season, and they have yet to suffer a reverse. Their opponents were from Airdrie, who retain second place, and the game was of good quality all through, despite the treacherous footing. Raith Rovers drew with Hearts, the Five club being slightly below recent form. Dundee visitors to Hamilton, also forced a draw. Celtic at Paisley gained the full reward. Queen's Park have had a run of bad luck, and are second from the bottom of the table. THE PRICE OF A FOOTBALL PLAYER.

The rumoured transfer, at a record price, something in the neighbourhood of £10,000, of Andy Wilson, the great Scottish International footballer, from Middlesbrough to Chelsea, brings to the front once again the peculiarities of football finance. There are a multitude of limitations in regard to the financial considerations which a player may receive, but in the trafficking between Clubs for particular men there is no monetary restriction. As a result, it often happens that a player is sold by one Club to another for a sum far in excess of what the player can ever hope to earn from the cleverness which makes him so valuable. To the layman, who cannot fathom the why and wherefore of football legislation, it would appear that a great player who appears before tens of thousands of spectators at each match is as much entitled to make a fortune out of his art as a famous singer or pianist. As things are, however, he is the one person who can never amass wealth out of his cleverness, though a Club can.

THE HARDEST JOB.

Mr. Bromley, the secretary of the Engineers' and Firemen's Union, says that a fireman on one of the new express engines of the Great Western Railway must use his shovel 2,075 times in an hour. A commentator on this statement in a London paper writes:—

Two thousand and seventy-five times an hour! Work this out, and it comes to 34 times a minute. To me it seems incredible that any human being could continue working at such a pace. But the statement brings up the interesting question as to who works hardest—what class of workman expends the greatest amount of muscular energy in a given time?

My gardener, when I spoke to him on the subject, at once said "The Ditcher," and explained that digging out stiff clay and lifting each shovelful and throwing it clear was by far the most exhausting form of labour with which he was acquainted.

The hardest work that I ever did was the sawing logs with a crosscut saw, at the other end of which was a burly Negro. The man was as much stronger than I, but the very fact that I was white and he coloured, forced me, for pride's sake to keep pace with him.

This brings me to the point that the hardest work is that which by its very nature does not allow of rest.

Take the driver of a motor-omnibus. Steering so large and heavy a vehicle is in itself a big physical effort, and to this is added the necessity for constant and intense watchfulness. Then, owing to the crush of traffic, he has to stop at very short intervals. Each stop means taking out his clutch, taking out his gear, putting on his brake; each start entails these processes reversed. In his eight-hours day he has to do all this between four and five thousand times. His work is surely harder than that of a day labourer which I should classify as very severe is that of the dock-er. The loading or unloading of ships and barges usually implies working against time. A man is one of a gang, of a human chain, and has to keep going hour after hour with scarcely a moment to wipe his brow.

I have known of a case in which four men unloaded by hand 800 bags of cement, each weighing 90 lb., in one day. I have read of another in which a similar number of men, forming a chain, unloaded 35,000 wooden paving blocks at a Chelsea wharf in 10 hours. Work it out; it comes to one block per second!

ACTION, NOT ATTENTION WANTED.

In the course of his message to Congress, President Coolidge said:

"The conditions of the insular possessions, on the whole, are good. Their business is reviving and they are being administered according to law. That effort has the full support of the Administration. Recommendations from their people or government should have the most considerate attention."

The Manila Times commenting on this says:

"As a matter of fact, conditions in the Philippines cannot by any stretch of the imagination be characterized as 'good,' either from an economic or a political standpoint. Business has not been satisfactory, and a political agitation of greater proportions than at any time since the Philippine insurrection has been arousing the popular passions to fever heat."

That the islands are being administered according to law is an announcement that will not startle the world; nor will the assurance that this effort is receiving the full support of the Administration. These statements will, however, arouse a pronouncement over the reasons why such a pronouncement is necessary, and we would have been only fair to those members of Congress who are not fully informed as to the Philippine developments of recent months, and to the people of the United States, for the President to have made a clear statement of the situation and of the motives underlying the Administration's attitude.

The President says that recommendations from the people of the Philippines or the Philippine Government should have the most considerate attention. With this the Times is thoroughly in accord, but it would also state that mere "attention" to recommendations from the Philippines will not solve the Philippine problem.

The Philippines have had "attention" from the Washington Government for a long time now. As a result they are now $200,000,000 in the hole and political agitation more than ever is handicapping the economic development of the Archipelago.

We assume that when President Coolidge refers to the people of the Philippines, he includes all the inhabitants of the islands who pay taxes, have political standing under the law, have their permanent homes here and earn their livelihoods here. It is a fair presumption that Americans are included.

Now as for recommendations by the people, the Philippines recommend the granting of complete, immediate independence while the Americans have recommended the declaration of permanent American sovereignty under a territorial Government.

But mere "attention" to these recommendations will serve no practical useful end. They must be answered with action in the form of institution of some definite policy in accordance with the deliberate judgment of the American people after they have heard and weighed all arguments in the case. If President Coolidge had recommended definite action on the desirability of which both Filipinos and Americans are in accord—he would have done something that would have contributed materially toward a solution of the Philippine problem. Instead he has evaded the real issue, just as his predecessors in office have done for a quarter of a century, and the situation remains, as it always has been, in a state of irritating flux that serves only to deepen the racial gulf and keep the islands from assuming their proper place in the economic life of the world.—Manila Times.

THE SMUGGLING OF DRUGS.

SWITZERLAND'S POSITION.

The International Anti-Opium Association at Peking has based the following: On November 14th, 1923, at Shanghai the Customs authorities seized on board the Albatros 500 pounds of morphine which had been shipped from Marseilles by Veron Grauer & Co., transport agents for Jacky Maeder & Co., of Basle, Switzerland.

Switzerland is the only European nation which has not ratified the Hague Convention and consequently has a free hand to indulge the "get-rich-quick" instincts of her merchants.

According to the consignment labels this consignment reached Marseilles on October 23rd, and presumably was put on board the Albatros a little earlier than a similar consignment of 500 pounds of morphine from Basle which was seized in Marseilles on November 4th. A Japanese named Miyagawa (of a firm of that name in Kobe), who was conducting these operations, was advised by the Basle firm to get out of the country after this last seizure, but being the head of a well-known smuggling gang he was arrested in London and is now doing three years in gaol. It is more than a suggestion that he got clear with one consignment of 500 pounds, only for it to be seized in Shanghai. The loss of a thousand pounds of morphine valued at almost $800,000 must be somewhat of a jar to the combine.

Switzerland, not having ratified the Hague Convention, has not supplied statistics of her narcotic imports, exports or manufacture to the League of Nations, but her traffic must be very extensive. A thousand pounds of morphine is shown above, and in the London trial the prosecuting counsel referred to 237,000 worth of heroin which the Miyagawa gang had succeeded in exporting through Hamburg in October. It is not time that some form of pressure be brought to bear on Switzerland to secure her ratification of the Convention in order to throw the responsibility of future narcotic traffic upon her Government, and not leave it as at present in the hands of her merchants.—Reuters' Swiss Service.

In a slashing and spectacular fight of fifteen rounds in Madison-square Gardens, on November 21st, Battling Siki was defeated on points by Kid Norfolk.

INTERPORT TRIAL.

This game, which was played at Happy Valley on Saturday, was spoiled somewhat by a strong cross wind that was blowing over the ground. Nevertheless some good football was seen, and the players all performed very creditably. McElvie won the toss and elected to kick towards the town goal. The Whites were the first to get away and Eaton tested Forsyth with a shot from thirty yards' range that the goal keeper had no difficulty in saving. The Blues attacked strongly and Bishop, failing to clear, let in Omar, who got well away on the wing before transferring to Castledine. The latter deftly passed the ball to Humbleston, who sent in a terrific first-time drive from twenty yards' range that went just by.

Nash got away for the Whites and forced a corner off Duncan. The flag-kick was well placed and Eaton bundled the ball into the net; unfortunately he did it with his hand and the goal was disallowed. Charlesworth sent over a fine centre from the right and Nash tried hard to score but had his shot charged down by Wheeler. The right wing was again conspicuous when Charlesworth gave Eaton a nice pass. The latter ran through but from an awkward angle failed to find the net. The Whites were playing superior football and kept up a continuous pressure. Eaton had hard luck after a fine run, his shot going just by. Simpson got away for the Blues but stumbled when about to centre and the ball went behind.

The Whites opened the score with an unexpected goal. McElvie received possession and from about forty yards' range sent in a fine drive that completely deceived Forsyth and entered the top of the net. From the kick off the Blues got away and a faulty clearance by Wynne let in Castledine who scored with a left foot shot into the corner of the net. Wheeler mis-kicked at the other end and let in Johnson who forced Wheeler to concede a corner. The flag kick was sent behind. The Whites continued to have the best of the play and were doing most of the attacking. The Blues got away, but McElvie effected a neat clearance. The Whites took the lead with a splendid goal. Eaton received and drew the opposing defence before transferring to Johnson. The latter had very little time to do with the ball, so he took a first-time shot at the goal which entered the corner of the net and gave Forsyth very little chance. This was easily the best goal of the match as the ball was in the air when Johnson shot, and it seemed improbable at first that he would reach it.

Keeping up pressure, the Whites should have gone further ahead. Charlesworth sent in a fine centre that travelled across the goalmouth to Nash. The latter was unmarked but from close range kicked by. Eaton worked hard to get a shot at goal, but the ball curved away from the upright. Charlesworth sent in a fine shot that Forsyth did well to clear. Simpson made a fine run on the left wing for the Blues, and from close in sent in a fast ground shot that Wynne gathered well and cleared. Eaton was again conspicuous at the other end, but after beating two opponents he kicked by. The Blues took up the attack and forced a corner. Bishop headed clear but the ball was transferred to Begg who kicked by when attempting to centre. The Whites resumed the attack and McElvie, receiving from Macklesworth, sent in a first-time drive that went just wide of its mark. Omar made a quick run on the right but centred too squarely and McElvie cleared.

The Whites' goal was put in danger through Humbleston, being fouled just outside the penalty area. Taking the kick Humbleston sent in a fast shot which Wynne charged down, the ball returned to Humbleston who kicked by. Eaton was again prominent at the other end but Forsyth effected a good clearance. The Blues got away and Stewart sent in a good drive from a free kick that Wynne saved well. The Whites returned to the attack, and Nash, receiving from the wing, sent in a drive from close quarters which Forsyth had no difficulty in saving, these being no sting behind the shot. Eaton gave Charlesworth a good pass and Wheeler did well to head the centre out of danger. Begg ran through for the Blues and it seemed as if the goal must fall; however a misunderstanding between Begg and Humbleston resulted in Castledine receiving and sending in a slow shot which Wynne saved easily. The Whites got away and Eaton again tested Forsyth with a shot from close range that the goalkeeper saved well. Half-time arrived with the Whites leading by two goals to one.

The teams were re-arranged for the second half and they lined up as follows:— Whites—Forsyth; Wheeler and Smith; McElvie, Stewart and Lelliott; Charlesworth, Eaton, Johnson, Nash and Begg.

Blues—Wynne; Wynne and Bishop; Duncan, Mair and Post; Omar, Castledine, Humbleston, Simpson and Macklesworth. Begg got away from the start and transferred to the right. Charlesworth whites further ahead with a fast shot into the corner of the net. Wheeler robbed Humbleston, but Castledine secured and sent in a fine shot that unhelpfully hit the crossbar and rebounded into play. Simpson received but mis-kicked, and the ball was cleared. Stewart gave Eaton a good chance, and the latter shot well but was injured in the leg but resumed with an effort, limping very badly. Omar showed a fine turn of speed on the wing and centred well, Wheeler heading clear. Eaton left the field at this stage.

The Blues kept up pressure and Castledine sent in a good shot which Forsyth saved well. Omar sent over another fine centre which Stewart cleared. Eaton re-appeared and gave Charlesworth a nice pass. The latter made ground but his centre went behind. The Whites pressed continually, most of the trouble being caused by the right wing, and Wynne and Bishop did well to keep them doing so. Bishop shot well to keep them doing so. Bishop shot well to keep them doing so. Bishop shot well to keep them doing so.

The final whistle sounded with the Whites easy winners by four goals to one. Their play was undoubtedly superior, and but for being opposed to such a fine defence they would have scored much more frequently. The outstanding player for the Blues was Stewart, who held the side together during the first half and gave a fine exhibition of football. Castledine and Begg were the best of the forwards, the former playing the best game and had had luck on several occasions. Wynne in goal for the Whites was very sound and had little chance with the shot that beat him. He brought off some fine saves. Wynne and Bishop were very steady full backs, Wynne being the soundest. McElvie and Lelliott were the best of the halves, the latter being exceptionally cool and steady. The forward line was very fast and gave the opposing defence continual trouble; the right wing was far the best, Eaton being the most prominent forward on the field and Charlesworth the best winger. Johnson was a trier at the centre forward position and scored a fine goal. Nash was very quick but did not look after his wing man as he might have done. Macklesworth played well on the wing when he had the opportunity but he was up against a very sound half-back in Duncan who played a very sound game all through. Results: Whites, 4; Blues, 1.

Teams:— Whites—Wynne; Wynne and Bishop; Mair, McElvie and Lelliott; Charlesworth, Eaton, Johnson, Nash and Macklesworth. Blues—Forsyth; Wheeler and Smith; Duncan, Stewart and Post; Omar, Castledine, Humbleston, Begg and Simpson. Referee: Mr. Smith.

"HAWKINS" v. SOUTH CHINA.

From the commencement the sailors pressed and Lau Hing Cheung brought off a fine clearance. Coming again, Warr received from G. A. Smith and shot just by from close range. South China took up the offensive and Pearce nearly put the ball into his own goal. Heathcote ran across however and kicked the ball out. The play was very fast and fairly even, both sides attacking in turn. A strong wind spoiled any chance of seeing good football, and the players did well to show such fine ball control. The sailors had the best of the play up to the interval but missed several chances and failed to score. Half time arrived with the score

"HAWKINS" v. SOUTH CHINA.

From the commencement the sailors pressed and Lau Hing Cheung brought off a fine clearance. Coming again, Warr received from G. A. Smith and shot just by from close range. South China took up the offensive and Pearce nearly put the ball into his own goal. Heathcote ran across however and kicked the ball out. The play was very fast and fairly even, both sides attacking in turn. A strong wind spoiled any chance of seeing good football, and the players did well to show such fine ball control. The sailors had the best of the play up to the interval but missed several chances and failed to score. Half time arrived with the score

The Chinese had the better of the play during this half and should have scored on several occasions. Pang Wah Hing had a fine chance but from close range kicked the ball at Heathcote and although the latter was beaten the ball rebounded off him into play where Wright cleared. Heathcote was called upon on several occasions and made some very good saves. The Hawkins recovered near the end and the final whistle sounded with them pressing, but the score sheet still blank.

The Hawkins were rather lucky to be the first team to take a point from the Chinese this year as they were outplayed in the second half, although they had their full share of the game in the first half. Heathcote did well in goal and Wright was very sound at left back. Keen and Davenport were the best of the halves, and both played splendid games. The forwards were not dangerous; Hyde was about the best. The South China team were inclined to take things easy but warmed up in the second half and Chan So came very near to scoring on two occasions. Lau Hing Cheung was safe in goal, but indulged in too much fancy work. Chan So was the best full back and Lam Yuk Ying the best half back, the forwards were all very quick and took a deal of stopping. Result: Hawkins, 0; South China, 0.

Teams:— Hawkins—Heathcote; Pearce and Wright; Keen, Davenport and Carpenter; G. A. Smith, Hyde, Warr, Smith and Simpson.

South China—Lau Hing Cheung; Ng Kam Chuen and Chan So; Leung Yuk Tong, Wong Sui Wa and Lam Yuk Ying; Pang Kam Wing, Pang Wah Hing, Wong Pak Choon, Lai Wai Tong and Chang Kwong Yui.

"MARAZION" v. SACRED HEART.

Playing on the Garrison "A" ground the Marazion won by six goals to six. Pelworth scored all the goals, three in each half.

SOUTH CHINA "A" v. FILIPINO CLUB.

On the South China ground the "A" team won by five goals to nil.

CLUB RES. v. UNIVERSITY.

On the Navy "A" ground the Club won by three goals to one. The first goal was a lucky one, the goalkeeper sending the ball into the net in trying to clear from a well placed corner by Paul. Coates scored two goals for the Club, and S. C. Ting scored for the University from a penalty.

KOWLOON RES. v. HOLLYHOCK.

Playing at Kowloon these teams were equal at the close the game ending in a draw of a goal all. Vickers scored for Kowloon and Newham for the Hollyhock.

SOUTH CHINA "B" v. "IRIQUOISE."

On the Garrison "B" ground South China beat the Iriquoise by three goals to two. Bloomfield and Rowan scored for the sailors, and Kwok Chi Yau, Chui Kwong Yung and Cheung Wing Shing for South China.

"TITANIA" RES. v. CLUB DE RECREO.

This match had a distinct bearing on the second division championship and the sailors by winning put themselves on equal terms with the East Surrey, each having dropped four points in matches played to date. The game was a well contested and before the close the Titania had a lucky goal, the ball entering the net off their own goalkeeper put the Club de Recreo one down at the finish.

EAST SURREY'S RESERVES v. "DIOMEDE" RESERVES.

The leaders dropped a very valuable point in their match with the Diomedea on the Navy "B" ground. Both teams missed from a penalty and the game ended in a goalless draw.

In the A division match C.R.C. v. I.R.C. the Chinese defeated the Indians by 50 games to 40.

CRAIGENGOWER v. THE UNIVERSITY.

The University playing at Happy Valley on Saturday defeated the Craigengower Cricket Club by four wickets and 96 runs. Craigengower had first knock and their two principal batsmen in their opening partnership went out early without doing anything. Noteworthy Bradbury was best scorer with 21. The side was all out for 122. Balhatchet taking five wickets for 32. The University found the bowling to their liking. The first three wickets produced over a hundred runs, the Rev. E. K. Quick being responsible for 50. Balhatchet also hit up 46. The sixth went down when 219 had been run up and stumps were drawn.

SECOND LEAGUE.

C.S.C.C. v. NAVY 2ND XI.

Principally due to the splendid bowling of Com. Hoppell and Mid. Sladen the Navy second string were enabled to inflict a very severe defeat upon the C.S.C.C. second eleven on Saturday at Happy Valley. Going in first the Civil Service men were only able to knock up 48 of which 21 was contributed by Harper. Hoppell was in fine form and took five wickets for 10 whilst Sladen coming on to bowl in the closing stages of the innings put "paid" to the account. So deadly was his bowling that in his first over he took three wickets for one run and had very hard luck in not doing the "hat trick." The Naval batsmen had no difficulty in raising the total required, making 143 in their innings. Sara bowl ed consistently and took seven wickets for 72 runs.

YACHTING AND BOWLING.

ENGLAND v. SCOTLAND.

In one sense honours were divided, in the events at the Royal Hongkong Yacht Club yesterday between the Societies of St. George and St. Andrew. While the Englishmen carried off the yachting events they had to lower their colours to Scotland on the bowling green. Even so it will hardly be denied that, on the day, the Englishmen won the more important and popular victory.

Great interest was evinced in both events and a good number of members and friends, among whom were several ladies, assembled to see the finishes of the races and to watch the bowls match.

After the morning race, about 50 persons sat down to tiffin in the club house after which the second race was sailed and the bowls commenced. The final figures were St. George's 27, St. Andrew's 20. Therefore, Mr. R. Sutherland, on behalf of the Scottish helmsmen, handed to Mr. E. Cock, a St. Andrew's flag.

The bowls event was won comfortably by Scotland, the scores being 42 to 23. Particulars of the scores are as follows:—

ST. ANDREW'S.		ST. GEORGE'S.
Rink 1.	Duncan Sellers	Rink 1.	Sir C. Severn
Keith	Grey	Low	Grey
Paton	20	Petley	16
Rink 2.	Russell	Rink 2.	Edwards
Wylie	McL. Messer	Thornhill	Thornhill
Williamson	22	Vaux	12

Altogether an extremely enjoyable day was spent by all who went to the Yacht Club, and this new annual event will, no doubt be looked forward to in future with the utmost keenness and pleasure. A strong Easterly wind, somewhat fresh, held all day and allowed both races to be finished in very good time. The day was fine and warm, though rather dull. Both courses provided a very pleasant sail which was fully enjoyed by the competing yachtsmen and those who followed round to watch the progress of the racing.

The morning race, which started at 11 o'clock, was from the Club-house line to Channel Rocks (P) thence to Kowloon Rock (P) markboat on Club-line, markboat at Kowloon Dock Point, East Rock Buoy (P) and finish at the Club-house line. The distance was six miles. All the competing yachts made a good start in the strong breeze and it was a fine test of skill the whole way round. On this occasion the Gaels and Haywards Hayes competed on level terms, but the honours went to the latter class. Adanac once more proved herself to be an exceptionally fast craft and in the hands of Mr. Shields beat Gladys by 43 seconds. Joan of the Gaels came in sixth, sailed

CHINESE 1st XI. v. C.S.C.C. 1st XI.

In a friendly match played at Causeway Bay on Saturday, a side from the Civil Service Cricket Club met and defeated a side selected from the Chinese. A feature of the match was a fine exhibition of trundling by Baker. He took the six last wickets of the Chinese innings and his average number of runs per wicket was 2.33. With his last seven balls he secured five wickets and he hit extremely hard luck in not performing the much coveted "hat trick." The Chinese compiled 79 in their innings. This the Civil Service lost for 9. Holdman, who distinguished himself with his fine wicket keeping, contributing 50.

by Capt. Arthur but Pierette, her class companion, was last by a few seconds. The finishes were all good and the competition keen. St. Andrew's leading by two points on the morning race.

After tiffin at the Club-house the second race started at three o'clock. For this the start and finish were at the Yacht Club and the course was by way of Channel Rocks, East Rock Buoy, Club-line markboat and Channel Rocks. All points were passed on the port hand and the distance was seven-and-a-half miles. The wind still held strongly but was a bit lighter than in the morning. The start was brilliant and an improvement on that of the morning event. There was little advantage gained by any boat in the start except by Adanac, which was to the leeward of the fleet, and crossing the line first cut off to Channel Rocks with a lead which she gradually improved. In the capable hands of Mr. Rouse she rounded the Rocks well-ahead of her rivals and never lost her lead during the rest of the race. On the final "leg" of the course Sealark tried to press her, but Adanac was never in danger and crossed the line 51 seconds in front. The finish was once again very good, but Pierette was once again badly behind. This was due to the fact that early in the race she struck a calmer patch and was the last to pick up a freshening wind. This gave the rest of the fleet a distinct advantage over her. Joan again showed her best qualities and took sixth place. The utmost credit is due to Adanac and those who handled her for so soundly defeating the other boats and scoring the maximum of 22 points.

St. Andrew's boats came in third, fourth, fifth, seventh and tenth in this race, and thus St. George's were able to win on the total by the narrow margin of two points.

PARIS FLOODS.
SCENES IN THE SUBURBS.

PARIS, January 5th.
The Seine is still rising, but less rapidly. The flood is expected to reach a level of twenty-four feet by to-morrow morning, when it is believed the maximum will be attained.

Workers at St. Denis are being conveyed to factories in boats manned by military engineers.

All shops at Afortville, above Paris, have been closed. Choisy is flooded, trains are delayed and the population is evacuating one quarter of the town where the water is 4½ feet deep.

Water at Ivry caused an explosion of calcium carbide in a garage. The firemen, waist deep in water, fought the flames while the inhabitants of a neighbouring block of flats were saved from the fire in a boat.

INVALIDES RAILWAY STATION
FLOODED.

LATER.
It is hoped that the flood has now reached its worst, since the highest level has already passed in the upper reaches of the Seine. Nevertheless, the situation is still threatening, as infiltration of the water has started in many parts of the centre of the capital remote from the river.

The sensation of the day was the collapse of a wall separating the Invalides Railway from the Seine. Water at the Invalides station was ten feet deep, preventing the resumption of traffic for at least several weeks.

Inhabitants in the suburbs continue to leave their homes, but the waters rose rapidly during the night time at Vitry, marooning a populous area which is now inaccessible. Women and children are visible on the roofs signalling with handkerchiefs and clothing.

Numerous works have been closed and many thousands of workers are idle.

SCOTTISH LABOUR.

HOME RULE AND THE RED FLAG.

LONDON, January 5th.
Addressing the annual conference of the Scottish Independent Labour Party at Edinburgh, Mr. William Martin, M.P., said that a Labour Government would not tolerate any dictation from any other Party, but would retain its independence and tackle its political programmes with undiminished spirit. He emphasised that Labour was the strongest political party in Scotland; therefore, if they had home rule in Scotland, the red flag of Socialism would already fly from Parliament House. The Conference passed a resolution demanding relief of distress in the West Highlands, which speakers described as a disaster to a civilised nation, adding that the people refused to live on charity. A resolution was also passed condemning the Government's failure to deal with unemployment generally, declaring that the Government's ostracism of Russia had aggravated the unemployment problem.

A resolution was passed demanding that the Government refrain from helping the French military machine in the Ruhr.

AUSTRALIA'S TRADE.

BRITAIN GIVEN THE FIRST OFFER.

LONDON, January 5th.
Mr. Bruce (Prime Minister of Australia) in a speech at Lincoln, declared that the Australian Commonwealth meant to develop manufactures as well as the output of foodstuffs and raw materials. He said: "She is not here as a suppliant for trade relations in order to benefit herself to the detriment of Great Britain. She believed in tariffs and, if unable to get a market in Great Britain, she would have to get one elsewhere. She had been already approached by other countries for reciprocal treatment, but, up to the present had refused such offers, because they would be detrimental to Great Britain."

BAVARIA AND THE REICH GREATER PARTICIPATION IN AFFAIRS SUGGESTED.

BERLIN, January 5th.
The Bavarian Government has addressed a memorandum to the Chancellor, suggesting a revision of the constitution for the purpose of the full re-establishment of the independence of individual states and their greater participation in the affairs of the Reich, particularly foreign affairs.

FRENCH ELECTORAL PERIOD.

THE FALL OF THE FRANC.

PARIS, January 5th.
The French electoral period opens to-morrow with the election of one-third of the Senate. But little interest is taken in it except as a forecast for the really decisive elections to the Chamber of Deputies in April.

The chief significance lies in the fact that the Parties of the Left have effected a combination, which has found a new weapon of attack on the National Bloc in the fall of the franc, which they attribute to the failure of M. Poincaré's financial and foreign policies.

It is asserted that French holders of francs are becoming uneasy, selling francs and buying sterling.

On the other hand, the fall is attributed to foreign speculators selling francs to purchase dollars, and it is even asserted by the Paris Herald that the fall is due to the operations on foreign exchanges decided on at a congress of German bankers at Frankfurt in November.

THE AFGHANISTAN
FRONTIER.
ANGLO-RUSSIAN UNDERSTANDING
IMPERATIVE.

LONDON, January 5th.
Discussing the Afghanistan situation, the special correspondent of the Observer says that old frontier jealousies are once more blazing up. It is a mistake to think that the revolution has substantially changed Russian preoccupation in Central Asia, and, in the absence of a definite Anglo-Russian understanding, Asiatic affairs and complications must necessarily arise.

Russia has turned more than ever to the East, where she has made enormous sacrifices to maintain her footing in Eastern markets, notably in Persia and Turkestan. The maintenance of Afghanistan as a buffer state is every whit as important to Russia as to India. This condition of affairs makes it urgent that Anglo-Russian relations should be placed on a proper diplomatic basis at the earliest possible moment. The one thing which would instantly silence the dissensions in the ruling party in Russia, and rally to the Government non-Bolshevik elements, would be any British challenge of the status quo in Central Asia.

A rash move on the North West Frontier may effect that more rapidly than is supposed, because the acuteness of suspicion on the other side is not realised.

SEEING BY WIRELESS.
"TELEVISION" THIS YEAR.

LONDON, January 4th.
Colonel L. Estling Malone, Chairman of the Radio Association, interviewed in regard to the transmission of American broadcasting by the British Broadcasting Company, forecasted that in 1924 they would make "television" or "seeing by wireless," a practical possibility. He emphasised that at present it was possible for one individual to address simultaneously people in Europe, Africa and America, and nobody could foretell the ultimate development of international broadcasting. He urged an international agreement to control and co-ordinate these transmissions and give a fair share of "ether space" to all stations in any country which had first-class programmes or news. The Radio Association had communicated with the League of Nations conferring this and a conference had been arranged for 1924 under the auspices of the League to consider all aspects of the problem.

EMPIRE WIRELESS DELAY.

AUSTRALIAN PREMIER'S PROTEST.

LONDON, January 4th.
"The date of my departure is approaching and I cannot longer remain silent on the question of Empire wireless whereon there should be no real difficulty in coming to a definite conclusion," runs the opening passage of a statement issued by Mr. Bruce, the Australian Premier, pointing out that one station in Britain is utterly inadequate to meet the demands of the service which the Dominion desire to see installed; but owing to a dispute between the British Post Office and Marconi's there is no prospect of more than one station being erected which will mean that Empire wireless will be seriously handicapped. Mr. Bruce contends that either the Post Office should reach an agreement with Marconi permitting the latter to erect further stations or a definite statement should be published showing why the negotiations have failed and thus enable the public to allocate the blame.

EMPIRE ZINC COMBINATION.

LONDON, January 4th.
The Empire Zinc Combination and the Burma Corporation will pay interest on four million shares mortgaged to the trustees of Lloyd's Bank regardless of profits from zinc smelting and the manufacture of sulphuric acid. The present profits of the Company are estimated at £165,000 sterling per annum of which £133,000 will be produced by the continuance of the present rate of dividend declared by the Burma Corporation. The Directors estimate that in two years the profits should reach £230,000.

LONDON, January 4th.
A terrible explosion occurred at midnight in the Rhosman colliery at Blymston Brynmawr in the Swansea Valley. The explosion shook the neighbourhood and was heard six miles away.

LIQUOR SEIZURES ON BRITISH VESSELS.

A PROTEST FROM CANADA.

NEW YORK, January 5th.
Great Britain, at the instance of the Canadian Government, has requested the release of the British and Canadian members of the crew of the Tomako, also asking for further information respecting the seizure, British investigation having shown that the Tomako, which is Canadian owned, was seized well outside the three-mile limit.

British officials feel that they have no alternative but insisting on the rights of British owned vessels outside the traditional three-mile radius, which must remain the law until the new treaty extending the limit to hours' steaming distance from shore becomes effective.

The American Authorities still profess doubt regarding the bona fides of the Tomako's British registry, and would like the question of seizure in such cases, outside the three-mile limit, settled by American courts.

NEW JAPANESE MINISTRY.

Tokyo, January 5th.

The Kenkyukai Party this morning submitted to Viscount Kiyoura a tentative Cabinet as follows, which it is believed will be approved to-day:—

Minister of Finance, Kazuyo Shoda.
Minister of War, General Masatomo Fukuda.
Minister of Navy, Admiral Kantarō Suzuki.

Baron Fujimura is a member of the business executive and a former director of the Mitsui Bussan Kaisha, Shanghai and London.

Baron Fujimura has never held political office before but has been a member of the Upper House since 1915.

The tentative Cabinet will comprise Members of the Kenkyukai four; Minority Parties, four; without members of the War Ministry and Navy Ministry.

LATER.
The Cabinet outlined this morning has been accepted.

The installation will probably take place on Sunday.

Baron Matsui, ex-Ambassador to France, has accepted the Foreign Ministership.

LATER.
Owing to strong opposition to Baron Fujimura, Viscount Kiyoura will hold the post of Foreign Minister as well as that of Premier for the present.

The fact that the Cabinet was definitely decided upon to-day shows that the Ministers for Home, Finance, Justice, Education, and Agriculture will be the same as already outlined.

Other members of the Cabinet are: Minister of War, General Issei Ugaki (at present Vice-Minister).
Minister of Navy, Admiral Kakuichi Murakami (Naval Counselor).
Minister of Communications, Baron Yoshio Fujimura.

The Inspector-General of Customs has received further telegrams, strongly protesting against any misappropriation of Customs surplus funds, from Chinese bankers and Chambers of Commerce at Hankow, Chinkiang, Changsha (Kiangsu), Nanchangchow and Yangchow.

These show that Chinese protests are not confined to Treaty Ports, but are widespread throughout the commercial centre of China.

PRIEST SHOT WITHOUT WARNING.

PEKING, January 5th.
Later reports from Suiyuan state that forty disbanded soldiers, entered Father Soenen's residence and without warning, shot down the priest and looted the house. The reports do not mention other looting.

The outrage is attributed to a desire to embarrass Ma Chih, as there was not apparently the slightest animosity against the priest.

HISTORY OF LLOYD'S REGISTER

ORIGIN IN A COFFEE HOUSE.

Speaking at the Commerce Society of the London School of Economics on the work of Lloyd's Register, Mr. Andrew Scott, Secretary of Lloyd's Register of Shipping, said the Register of Shipping started many years ago in Lloyd's Coffee House. The coffee houses in those days were business and social centres, and there information was gathered about ships. The first register was printed in 1790, and the first register extant was for the years 1764-5-6, and contained the names of the owners of the ships, the captains, ports ships were travelling between, the tonnage, and number of guns carried. It was the only book in the world in which alterations were stamped in type. The registers were maintained by the underwriters and carried on by them. Then the classification was reorganized, and in 1834 the Society of Lloyd's Register for registration was an accomplished fact, and a Committee was formed, to whom was entrusted the whole of the interests concerned. They then began the task of putting into practice the classing of vessels according to intrinsic merit. Lloyd's at the present day was governed by a management committee, and they published a list of ships, which comprised an enormous volume, that was sent all over the world. Mr. Scott then went on to say that "chairs" in naval architecture had been established in several of our universities, and a large number of scholarships had been provided which had had the result of producing many eminent naval architects. (Cheers.)

P. AND O. REPORT.

The accounts to September 30th show that after providing for depreciation, and adding £103,737 to the insurance fund, bringing it up to £3,200,000, there is a credit balance of the year's accounts, including £101,799 brought forward from last year, of £317,975, and directors proposed 5 per cent. dividend on preferred stock (of which 21 per cent. paid as interim), 12 per cent. dividend on deferred stock, free of income tax (of which 6 per cent. paid as interim), to reserve for redemption 81 per cent. debenture stock, £123,000; to Provident Good Service Fund, £10,000; forward to next year, £101,873.

Fleet.—The Banca, the Malta, the Sonali, and Commonwealth have been sold; they stood at nominal figures in the company's books. The Mongolia which at the date of the last report was under construction, was delivered last spring, and has made two satisfactory voyages since entering the service. The Moditan and Malaga, two steamers of 20,800 tons each, were delivered in time for the autumn passenger sailings, and the directors are confident will prove valuable ships for the company's work.

In order to strengthen the fleet the directors, although prices are still above pre-war figures, have considered it desirable to contract for four fast steamers of 18,000 tons, more particularly for the London-Bombay mail line, and these new ships, which are being constructed by Messrs. Harland & Wolff, Ltd., and by Messrs. Raytheon, Leslie & Co., Ltd., figure in the fleet list under the names of the Ranapindi, Rajputana, Ranpara and Ranchet.

In addition, and more particularly to speed up the Indian Mail Service, an express steamer mainly intended for the run between Aden and Bombay, has been contracted for with Messrs. Harland & Wolff, Ltd. This vessel, which will be of some 10,000 tons gross register, is expected to be delivered in the summer of next year, and is shown in the fleet list under the name of Ranipet.

The directors have also entered into contracts with Messrs. Barclay Curie, Ltd., and Mrs. Alexander Stephens & Co., Ltd., for three passenger and cargo ships of 16,000 tons each, mainly for the Australian Line. These ships will have large capacity for cargo and more particularly for the conveyance of refrigerated produce.

A small feeder of 1,020 tons is being built for the Singapore and Straits trade.

Summary.—Conditions of working in all spheres of the company's operations have been very difficult during the past 12 months, caused by labour troubles, and shipbuilding has been hung up by the boiler-makers' strike. The directors reported last year there were indications of a slight improvement in the outward trade business, but it is still very poor, although the company's ships secure their share of the business doing. The homeward trade has shown little improvement. The company's passenger business has been satisfactory. The earthquake in Japan has affected the company's business there, but the resource of the Japanese people is such that already business with Yokohama has been resumed. The mail service has continued to be carried on satisfactorily, and the pre-war schedule is now in operation, with exception of the Australian service.

B.I. CO'S ANNUAL REPORT.

The British India Steam Navigation Company's report for the year ended October 30th, shows net profits of £112,000 and a dividend of 8 per cent. for the year. £23,000 is carried forward. Seventeen steamers which could not be worked at current rates were sold, three steamers and four motor-ships were added to the fleet, and a further six steamers are being built. The total tonnage is now 53,500, two thousand-ton motor vessels are being constructed, and it is hoped that recent economic and improvement in freights will result in better profits in the current year.

The Austrian Budget statement shows that the deficit for 1924 will be reduced to £2,500,000, a third of that of the preceding year.

GIANT OF UNDERSEAS

APPROACHING COMPLETION OF SUBMARINE XI.

It is expected that the huge submarine XI, building at Chatham, will be completed early in the present year. The craft will be not only the longest underwater vessel in the world, but also the fastest, says the Morning Post.

Her surface speed will be 33 knots, enabling her to accompany the ships of the battle fleet even when they are steaming at full speed, thus overcoming a real difficulty with regard to submarines in the past. XI will carry six 5.5-inch guns and is armed for a submarine.

Her displacement of 2,500 tons will be almost as great as that of a light cruiser of the "Caroline" class.

Since she was laid down many alterations have been made in the original design, and she will be in the nature of an experiment. Apart from ordnance fittings, her cost will be £250,000.
